THROUGH THE STORM

Resilience, belonging, and the strength to endure together.

Strength is found in one another.

Storms test strength, trust, endurance, and unity. Through the Storm turns the force of a storm into a metaphor for the challenges that threaten to pull us apart - and the relationships that help us endure.

From Mozart's gathering tension to Vivaldi's relentless energy, the journey finds its emotional center in a cinematic "You'll Never Walk Alone."

REPERTOIRE

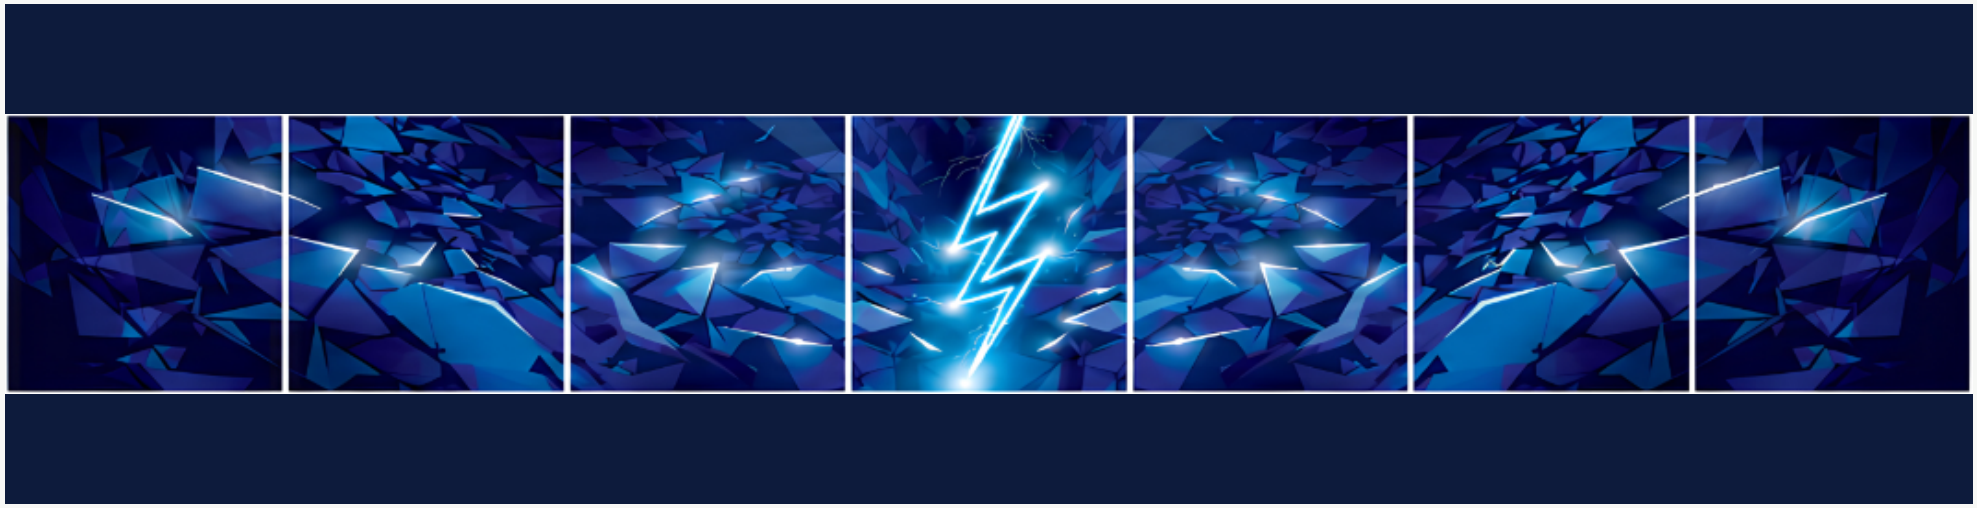

Themes from Symphony No. 40 in G Minor
Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart
"Summer" from The Four Seasons
Antonio Vivaldi
"You'll Never Walk Alone"
Cinematic arrangement

Composed/Arranged by
John Fannin & Brian Flack

Supplied visual concepts by Marching 365

THE STORY

From fracture to shared strength.

Suggested dramatic sections based on the show description; headings describe the emotional arc.

01

Gathering Tension

Uncertainty • Unrest • Distance

Fragments of Mozart's Symphony No. 40 create unease. Isolated performers and fractured forms suggest a world beginning to pull apart.

02

Heart of the Storm

Pressure • Resistance • Struggle

Vivaldi's "Summer" drives relentless motion. Crossing forms and opposing directions embody the force of adversity.

03

Shelter in One Another

Trust • Support • Belonging

A cinematic "You'll Never Walk Alone" becomes the emotional center. Performers reconnect, finding shelter and strength in one another.

04

Through Together

Courage • Connection • Resolve

Familiar themes return in a unified statement. The storm remains, but the ensemble has found the courage and connection to move through it.

The final arrival celebrates resilience within the storm - strengthened by the people beside us.

A fractured world. A connected field.

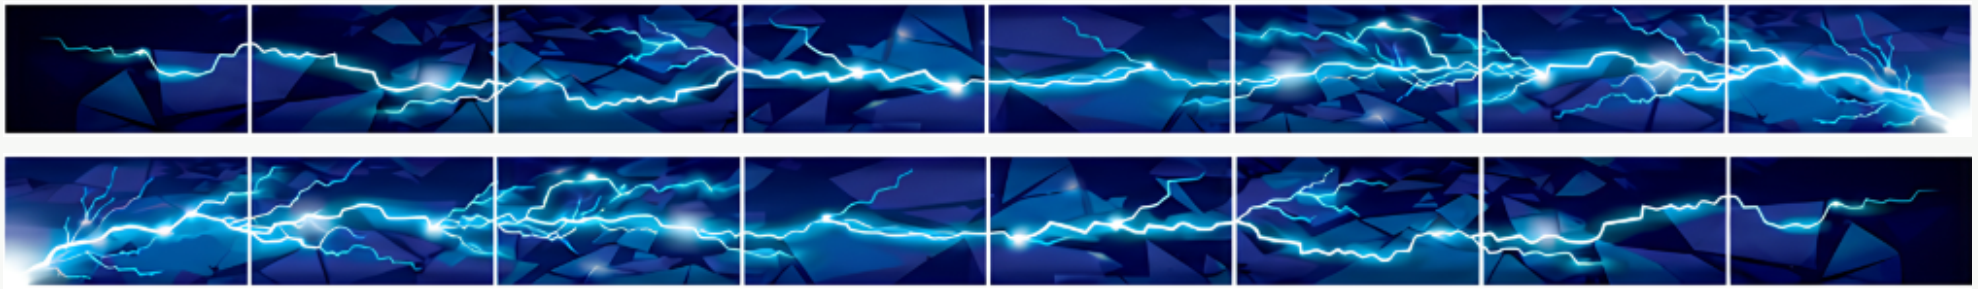

Backfield panels

7 panels • 10′ × 10′ each • Angular blue fragments surrounding a central lightning strike.

Sideline panels

16 panels • 7.5′ × 4′ each • A continuous electrical motif across the front.

Sideline artwork shown in two rows for readability: panels 1-8 above, 9-16 below.

Fracture

Use separated groups, angular pathways, and opposing motion to echo the broken geometry.

Rebuild

Shift toward partner work and connected forms as trust replaces isolation.

Unify

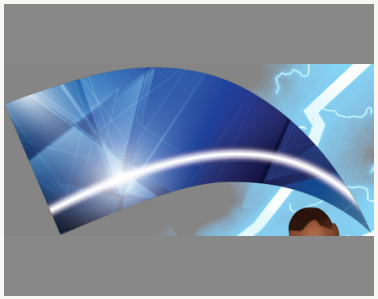

Bring the ensemble into a cohesive final picture while lightning imagery preserves the storm’s presence.

Dimensions follow the supplied mockup. Final quantities, placement, and staging can be adapted for each ensemble.

Blue tension. Golden connection.

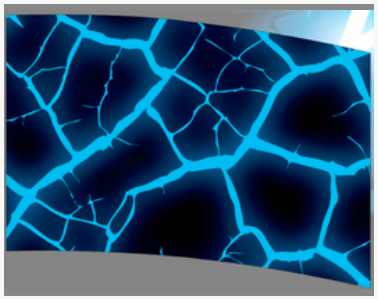

Band & guard costuming
Blue lightning and a silver diagonal define the band top. Bright gold guard costumes carry the same electrical motif into a warmer, more hopeful palette.

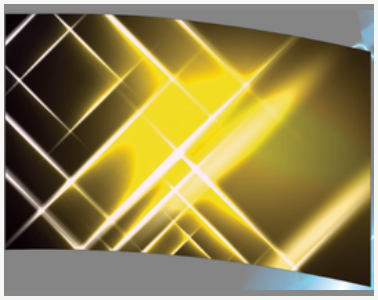

Blue facets & white arc

Angular blue shapes and a sweeping bright line connect fracture with a sense of forward motion.

Electric blue fractures

Branching cyan lines against deep blue reinforce pressure, resistance, and the storm's energy.

Golden light

Warm yellow and intersecting white lines support the final statement of shared strength.

Rebuild the visual relationships.
Changes in spacing, motion, and color can reveal growing unity while the storm imagery remains present.

Supplied artwork communicates creative direction. Suggested flag placement and staging can be refined with the production team.